DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: It is advised that proper headings for the specification be inserted where appropriate. Also, remove any "WO 2004... and PCT/DE..." headings on the spec pages..

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 22, 27, 29, 40, 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nieri et al(US 6,838,951).

The reference to Nieri et al discloses a VCO with resonator(see figure 1, 18(VCO) and fig 2B with resonant circuit (LC) with a quality factor. as noted in col. 10, first para:

(33) In general, the VCO bias circuit 54 adjusts the VCO bias current 56, thereby compensating for the changing loaded quality factor Q, as the operating range of the VCO 18 varies due to the change in the capacitance of the tank circuit 58. This adjustment improves the performance of the synthesizer 10 by maintaining a desired level of single sideband phase noise and output voltage at the output of the VCO 18 at each of the operating ranges and frequencies. There are numerous ways to control the VCO bias circuit 54, three of which are given above. However, other ways of controlling the VCO bias circuit 54 are possible and should be considered within the spirit and scope of the present invention.

This shows that to maintain a desired amplitude level, control of the quality factor of the resonator tank is implemented by way of the coarse tune circuit. The output signal Fvco is then transmitted downstream to be used by another circuit within a communication system such as a mixer.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 23-26, 28, 30, 41,42 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 31- 39 are allowed.
